PREFACE TO 1904-5 EDITIONS.

WE have pleasure in again producing the BUTE COUNTY DIRECTORY, and continuing all the Lists of Public Officials, Society Office-Bearers, &c., for the whole County and the towns and villages within its bounds; the Householders in the whole Isle of Bute; and specially-prepared lists of those engaged in Trade in the Islands of Bute and Cumbrae.

The subject matter, though not much increased from former years, is arranged in a more get-at-able style—the several parts being printed on different coloured papers,—and we are sure Advertisers will appreciate their notices being printed facing the general information.

Our best thanks are again accorded to those who have assisted us in our compilation of the “intelligence department” of Buteshire, to Advertisers and Subscribers for their patronage, and those who have had the courtesy to acknowledge compliments.

[The List of Rothesay Householders arranged in Streets is still held in abeyance, and will be issued as a supplement, if desired.]

HIGGIE & CO., PUBLISHERS.

COUNTY OF BUTE.

The COUNTY OF BUTE comprises the seven islands in the Firth of Clyde, viz.:—BUTE, the most populous; ARRAN, the largest; the GREAT and LITTLE CUMBRAES, off Ayrshire Coast; HOLY ISLE and PLADDA, off Arran; and INCHMARNOCK, off Bute.

The total AREA OF THE COUNTY (land and water, exclusive of tidal water) is 139,658 acres, of which 53,510 are mountain and heath lands used for grazing. 3,806 acres are under plantations, and 794 are covered with water. There are 25,981 acres under all kinds of crops, bare fallow and grass, which is a gradual inroad on the mountain heath and hitherto uncultivated land.

The principal INDUSTRIES are agriculture, horticulture, and fishing. The islands possess great and varied natural attractions, and are in the forefront as holiday resorts.

The POPULATION of the COUNTY (including its Burghs of ROTHESAY and MILLPORT) in 1801 was 11,791; 1831, 14,151; 1861, 16,331; 1881, 17,657. In 1891 it was 18,248 (8,057 males and 10,197 females); and in 1901, 18,786 (8,412 males and 10,374 females)—being an increase of 255 in the ten years—2.1 per cent. There were 4,270 inhabited houses in the islands.

The recent Census showed that in Buteshire there were 86 persons to the square mile, 7.4 acres to each person, and 204 yards approximate or distance in linear yards between person and person. The proportion of females to every 100 males is 123.32; the number of families is 4,422; inhabited houses, 4,263; rooms, 19,433; 4.25 persons to each family; 1.04 families to each house; 4.41 persons to each house; 4.56 rooms to each house; 4.40 rooms to each family; 1.97 persons to each room, and 20 persons speak Gaelic only.

The Bute County Directory

is the only Publication of the kind printed and published in Buteshire. Its data is carefully compiled, and much time and attention is devoted each year to the careful investigation and noting the necessary alterations in the personnel of the occupants of public offices, the correct addresses of the general inhabitants, and the latest changes amongst those engaged in trade.

The earliest publications connected with Rothesay were Directories, and they are interesting reading even at this time of day.

Our publication not only includes Rothesay, but embraces the whole County of Bute, and though it has increased in usefulness and circulation, its price and advertisement tariff have remained the same.

The A B C Coast Guide.

(Opinions of the Press on the current issue.)

“A RAGGED COAST.—A Scotsman, on being twitted upon his country being smaller than England, replied that ‘it would be bigger if it was a’ flattened oot!’ Scotland, especially in the North-West, is as much a land of mountain and flood, of brown heath and slaggy wood, of crags, knolls, and mounds confusedly hurled, of hill and stream, of mighty mountains and lovely lakes, that it affords a welcome change from the flatness and monotony of other districts. The ruggedness of its contour is equalled only by the raggedness of the coast line, which is broken up into an interminable succession of promontories, creeks and ‘bays, which are truly heavenly havens to the jaded holiday-seeker. The steamboats that ply on the West of Scotland are famous for their excellence, but visitors who do not care to visit the Atlantic can navigate the more placid waters of the inland sea, the noble Loch Lomond. All information about resorts, routes and fares, from the Shetland Isles to the Mull of Galloway, is contained in handy form in the ‘A B C Coast Guide,’ published by Higgie & Co., Rothesay, N.B. In this booklet the holiday-seeker is even told how to save himself from drowning. Here are the hints, which, if committed to memory, would save many lives”: [page 121 is quoted.]—“Vim,” London, July 15, 1904.

Parish of North Bute.

This is the northern portion of the island of Bute. Port-Bannatyne, its principal village, is two and a-half miles from Rothesay, with which it is connected by tramway. Kames Castle, in the vicinity, is said to be the oldest inhabited castle in the country, and was the ancient seat of the Bannatynes. The village was named after that family—two brothers of whom (John and Gilbert)—received a charter from King Robert the Bruce, for services rendered at Bannockburn. At the last census, there were 367 inhabited houses (1627 windowed rooms), and 192 uninhabited in the parish and 373 separate families—793 males and 940 females—giving a total of 1733. The Port-Bannatyne ward (from Pointhouse to the other end of the village and back to Gortans and Bannatyne Mains) contained 473 males and 627 females—1100 in all; the North Bute ward, 125 males and 140 females; and the Cumsmernenoch ward, 195 males and 173 females. The total ten years ago was 1583—or an increase of 150 on the decennial period

The Coast Guide.

Opinions of the Press on the Current Issue.

"The COAST GUIDE, published by Messrs Higgin & Co., has again made its appearance after lying dormant since 1900. It will prove interesting to visitors, as it shows at a glance the excursions that may be enjoyed."—Rothesay Chronicle, 25th June.

"Contains a large amount of information valuable to the holidaymaker."—The Buteman, 25th June.

"It is small but contains much useful information regarding the popular tourist resorts in the west and north-west of Scotland."—Rothesay Express, 29th June.

"It is a little book of the size to the monthly diary time tables, and gives short notes of the places on the Coast, with routes, fares, and other information, besides a lot of miscellaneous matter of use to tourists and visitors. There is an inset of 32 blank pages in the centre for note-taking purposes, which enhances the value of the publication. There are other blank pages scattered throughout . . . for advertisements in future issues. Mr Higgin, it may be mentioned, was the first to issue a penny guide "doon the watter."—Largs and Millport Weekly News, 25th June.

"It has been remodelled for this issue, is a first-class pocket companion, and besides furnishing interesting information with remarkable accuracy of detail of the coast resorts of Scotland, includes a mass of other useful data, together with business register, memorandum book, &c. The publishers have in every respect made a hit with this neat and reliable guide book."—Argyllshire Herald, Campbeltown, 25th June.

"A very handy guide to all the places of pleasure and health resort along the shores of the Clyde, which will be found of great use to summer visitors and tourists. There is much information given in small compass."—Peeblesshire Advertiser, 25th June.

"It is well-known and valued by those who travel down the Clyde on pleasure bent. This year there are several additions which enhance the merits of the booklet."—Fife-shire Herald and Journal, 22nd June.

"It is a handy and most useful publication. Its contents contain brief, yet comprehensive, descriptions of the various arms of the Firth of Clyde, also of such inland waters as Loch Lomond, Loch Katrine, and Loch Tay, and the principal health resorts from Lewis to Stranraer. It is a neat compendium of information regarding all places of interest on the coast, and how to reach them from Glasgow—also the cost."—Evening Times, Glasgow, 27th June.

The Isle of Arran.

This island, the largest in the group, is famous for the grandeur of its scenery and the variety of its geological deposits. The island is twenty miles in length, twelve in breadth, and is divided into two parishes—Kilbride on the east, and Kilmory on the west. The King and Queen spent a very pleasant holiday in the island after their Coronation in August, 1902, and witnessed interesting sheep dog trials

Opinion of the Current Issue.

“For the proper enjoyment of the holiday one requires a clearly and succinctly written guide to The Coast, giving all the information about the many charming places by the seaside—their hotels, their facilities for travelling and the like, their special features, their amusement resorts. Such a valuable vade-mecum is “The ABC Coast Guide,” which, after a lapse of four years, is again published by that enterprising Rothesay gentleman, Mr Geo. Higgie. Hints are given on the golf courses at the coast, and a golf-scoring sheet is incorporated with the publication; there are also a couple of pages ruled for cash memoranda, and a number of blank pages suitable for the dairist. Notes on fishing, swimming, rowing, sailing, camping out, yachting and yachting fixtures, railways and steamboats, are also included, as well as an easily read list of fares from Glasgow. The beauty of the “Coast Guide” is that it deals not only with the Clyde watering-places, but also with the coast resorts of all broad Scotland. We are sure the “Coast Guide” will prove as popular with the general public as heretofore. It has been well styled “the pleasure seeker’s companion,” for no pleasure seeker can well be without it. The publication, it may be added, is printed in Glasgow, and supplied to the trade through the wholesale booksellers and news-agents. The publishing office is at 22 Bridge Street, Rothesay, and the price the humble penny.”—Govan Press, 24th June.

Opinions of the Current Issue.

“A compact little book which contains much useful information respecting the chief places of interest on the West Coast of Scotland, with lists of hotels and boarding-houses. It also gives particulars as to excursions, routes, &c., together with a list of yachting fixtures on both the East and West Coasts. Scottish tourists will do well to secure one of these handy little booklets, which may be had for the sum of one penny from Meers Higgin & Co., Rothesay.”—The Amateur Photographer, London, W.C., 30th June, 1904.

“A handy little work, just the thing one wants when on holiday—something concise and informative, and can be carried about without knowing any inconvenience. The information is full for the space occupied, and all the necessary details of train, coach and steamer, as well as the none the less necessary hotel and other matters that one must “know” even on holiday. It ought to be appreciated by sojourners “doon the watter,” as no doubt it is. It is a first-rate pennyworth for its purpose.”—Scottish Typographical Circular, July.

Parish of Cumbrae.

This parish comprises the islands of the Great and Little Cumbrae off the Ayrshire coast. The Burgh of Millport, on the larger Isle, is a popular watering-place. This isle is 12 miles in circumference, and has a well-made road round it. On the smaller isle is the Cumbrae Lighthouse.

Black's Specialities.

BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.

ALIMENTO BREAD.

THE MOST NUTRITIOUS AND DELICIOUS

Brown Bread in the World.

Alimento Food for Children, Invalids and the Aged.

"BLACK'S PATENT FOOD.—There can be no doubt of the high nutritious value of this food. The method by which it is prepared is calculated to render it not difficult of digestion. This food yields a high proportion of essential mineral constituents. The taste is good, and the preparation is evidently a food of high merit."—The Lancet.
